A bicycle lane is a portion of a roadway that has been designated using striping, signing and pavement markings for the use of bicyclists.

An enhanced bicycle lane is a conventional bicycle lane paired with a designated buffer space separating the bicycle lane from the adjacent motor vehicle travel lane.

A shared-use path is a paved trail facility that is physically separated from vehicular traffic by an open space or barrier. These facilities are open to cyclists as well as pedestrians, skaters, wheelchair users and other non-motorized users.

The Red Rock National Conservation Area's 13-mile loop can be accessed from State Route 159, which now includes a bike route. In addition to a visitor center, Red Rock has a bicycle pavilion offering water, a restroom, benches, picnic tables and fire grills. NOTE there is a fee to enter the National Conservation Area.

The RTC of Southern Nevada has published this map to aid people riding bikes. People riding bikes are urged to use facilities that are suitable to their individual cycling skills and to be aware that traffic volumes during certain times of the day may be unsuitable for their cycling abilities. The RTC of Southern Nevada takes no responsibility for users' safety and in no way warrants the safety or fitness of the suggested routes.
