<td>Mr. John Peñuelas, Director of Engineering-Streets and Highways for the Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), recounted that RTC personnel had been informed that a number of contact listings were incorrect and/or outdated at the last meeting. He stated that Ms. Tamika Davis-Edwards, RTC Administrative Specialist, and other agency staff members had reached out to the local government entities and utility companies on the contact list in an effort to update the information. Mr. Peñuelas shared that not all of the entities and companies had responded and RTC personnel would once more try to reach out to them.</td>

Ms. Tammy McMahan, RTC Management Analyst, pointed out that Ms. Raquel Butler is the new CenturyLink alternate and she is replacing the former CenturyLink alternate, Mr. Steve Reed. She went on to say that Ms. Tahmineh Pennington is now the member representative for the Southern Nevada Water Authority (SNWA) and Ms. Adriana Ventimiglia is a SNWA alternate.

Next, Mr. Mark Sorensen, City of Las Vegas (Las Vegas), indicated that some Las Vegas contacts should be added. He requested that Ms. Alicia Auch, Engineering Project Manager, (702) 229-5374 be added to the municipality’s “Engineering Design” subsection. Mr. Sorensen went on to say that Las Vegas personnel wished to add a subsection with a title along the lines of “Traffic Control and Barricade.” He suggested that the other Regional Project Coordination Committee member entities consider doing the same. Mr. Sorensen went on to ask that Mr. Jason Jackson, Senior Engineering Technician, (702) 229-2190 be listed under the new subsection. The Las Vegas representative also requested that the words “sanitation, flood, and environmental” be added after the listing of his name and title which is Mark Sorenson, Program Manager.

Mr. Joe Damiani, RTC Manager of Engineering, followed by asking if the other Las Vegas program managers had specialties. Mr. Sorensen advised that it would be best to categorize the work of these of these program managers as “engineering design.”

Mr. Damiani then inquired as to the specific Las Vegas staff member who was primarily responsible for roadway matters. Mr. Sorensen answered that Ms. Rosa Aragonez Cortez, Assistant City Engineer, handled this concern.

Motion:
A motion was not necessary.

Vote/Summary:

Item:
4. APPROVE THE FORMATION OF A WORKING GROUP TO DISCUSS FUTURE INFRASTRUCTURE NEEDS FOR IVANPAH VALLEY (FOR POSSIBLE ACTION)

Comments:
Mr. John Peñuelas, Director of Engineering-Streets and Highways with the Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), recounted that a Clark County Water Reclamation District representative had suggested the formation of a working group to discuss infrastructure needs for the Ivanpah Valley. He then talked about the formation of such a non-public body in light of the dictates of Nevada Open Meeting Law. Mr. Peñuelas stated that the working group could not constitute a quorum of the Regional Project Coordination Committee (RPCC or Committee). If the group had a quorum of RPCC members, public notices of the gatherings had to be issued. As such, the RTC Director of Engineering proposed that those serving on the working group constitute less than the quorum of the RPCC or assign persons from the Committee’s local government entities and utility companies who are not a member or alternate.

Mr. Peñuelas asked if any Committee members were interested in suggesting participants for the working group. Ms. Tahmineh Pennington, Southern Nevada Water Authority, said that the Las Vegas Valley Water District (LVVWD) wanted to part of this discussion. She understood that individuals with the LVVWD planning department would likely participate. Ms. Pennington added that they were neither RPCC members nor alternates.
Mr. Charlie Lee, Clark County Water Reclamation District (CCWRD), said that Ms. Leslie Young, CCWRD Manager of Design Construction, is interested in serving on this working group. Mr. Lee stated that she is neither an RPCC member nor alternate.

Mr. Robert Thompson, Clark County Public Works, shared that Mr. Denis Cederburg, Director of Clark County Public Works (CCPW), had not yet decided on whether CCPW would participate.

Vice-Chair Scott Jarvis, City of Henderson (Henderson), said that he would contact Henderson’s Utilities Department to determine if any staff members had an interest in serving on the group.

Mr. Tom Brady, City of North Las Vegas, said the municipality he represents would not be participating.

Chair Diana Hubbard, Southwest Gas Corporation (Southwest Gas), understood that the utility company was thinking of suggesting an RPCC alternate to serve on this working group.

Mr. Willie Davidson, CenturyLink, said that the utility company would not be participating.

Mr. Douglas Johnson, Nevada Department of Transportation (NDOT), informed the Committee that he would investigate to determine NDOT’s interest in participating.

Ms. Patricia Brown, NV Energy, said NV Energy is interested in serving on the group, but she could not yet name a suggested participant.

Mr. Brad Gallimore, Bureau of Land Management (BLM), believed that BLM would likely participate.

Mr. Peñuelas concluded the discussion by asking the RPCC to send their suggestions for participants on an Ivanpah Valley working group to Ms. Julia Uravich, RTC Project Engineer.

Motion:
A motion was not necessary.

Vote/Summary:

Item:
5. RECEIVE INFORMATION REGARDING APPROVED PLANNED PROJECTS FROM MEMBER ENTITIES AND UTILITY COMPANIES (FOR POSSIBLE ACTION)

Comments:
Mr. Joe Damiani, Manager of Engineering with the Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), stated that no new planned projects had been identified or added to the Regional Project Coordination Committee (RPCC or Committee) GIS Project Map.

Mr. Damiani went on to say that the RTC was initiating the process for the agency’s Capital Improvements Program (CIP). He shared that the agency was aiming to have the CIP approved and adopted in June 2019 by the RTC Board of Commissioners. Mr. Damiani stated that when the RTC’s CIP was adopted, information would be downloaded to the RPCC GIS Project Map and presented to the Committee. He encouraged RPCC members to provide information about the approved CIPs of their government entities and utility companies when this is available and the data would be incorporated into the map.
Motion:
A motion was not necessary.

Vote/Summary:
A vote was not taken.

Item:
6. DISCUSS PROJECTS THAT ARE STARTING THE ENGINEERING DESIGN PHASE OF PROJECT DELIVERY (FOR POSSIBLE ACTION)

Comments:
Mr. Joe Damiani, Manager of Engineering, Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), listed the projects that have progressed from the planning to the design phase as follows:
- Ogden Avenue – Main Street to Las Vegas Boulevard
- Intersection Improvements Program – Las Vegas Boulevard and Larson Lane
- Arterial Reconstruction Fiscal Year (FY) 2019 City of Las Vegas Maintenance – Shaumber Road: Hammer Lane to Ann Road
- Traffic Signal Improvement Program FY 2019 – Clark Avenue Transit Station, 4th Street and Garces Avenue, 4th Street and Hoover Avenue

Mr. Mark Sorensen, City of Las Vegas (Las Vegas), noted that Mr. Damiani had mentioned a number of Las Vegas projects. He understood that there were approximately 12 Las Vegas projects that were commencing the “engineering design phase” and this work was mostly funded by the RTC. Mr. Sorensen believed that the projects should already be on the Regional Project Coordination Committee GIS Project Map, but he would check to confirm this. Mr. Damiani responded that he would check the map as well.

Motion:
A motion was not necessary.

Vote/Summary:
A vote was not taken.

Item:
7. DISCUSS PROJECTS THAT WILL SOON BE STARTING THE CONSTRUCTION PHASE OF PROJECT DELIVERY (FOR POSSIBLE ACTION)

Comments:
Mr. Joe Damiani, Manager of Engineering with the Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), listed the projects that would soon be starting the construction phase of project delivery as follows:
- Desert Inn Road – Nellis Boulevard to Hollywood Boulevard
- Arterial Reconstruction – Lake Mead Boulevard: Puebla Vista Drive to Buffalo Drive
- Traffic Signal Improvement Program Fiscal Year 2019 – Fort Apache Road: Deer Springs Way; Fort Apache Road: Elkhorn Road; Hualapai Way/Centennial Parkway; Hualapai Way/Dorrell Lane; Hualapai Way/Elkhorn Road; and Hualapai Way/Farm Road

Mr. Damiani noted that the City of Henderson’s (Henderson) Neighborhood Rehabilitation projects would also be starting construction soon. He explained that this work is not featured on the Regional Project Coordination Committee (RPCC) GIS Project Map because the map is intended to focus on non-neighborhood roadways. He stated that interested persons could contact Henderson personnel if they had any questions. The RTC Manager of Engineering added that the Henderson projects would be featured in the agenda for the RTC Board of Commissioners.
Next, Mr. Mark Sorensen, City of Las Vegas (Las Vegas), remarked that he was not sure if the RTC was aware of other Las Vegas projects that would soon start construction. With that in mind, he listed the work as follows:

- Cimarron Road Pedestrian Bridge at Summerlin Parkway
- Buckskin Avenue Storm Drain
- Cimarron Road to Buffalo Drive
- Flamingo Road/Boulder Highway Storm Drain
- Boulder Highway – Sierra Avenue and Charleston Boulevard
- Rancho Road System Storm Drain – Grand Canyon Drive to Hualapai Way

Next, Mr. Damiani shared with the RPCC that many groups and organizations including, but not limited to, homebuilders, contractors association, and the National Association of Industrial and Office Properties, are utilizing the RPCC GIS Project Map. Considering the information needs of these parties and local government entities and utility companies, the RTC was planning to solicit information regarding more specific project construction dates; namely, specific months or quarter signifiers for work with estimated construction dates.

Ms. Tahmineh Pennington, Southern Nevada Water Authority, commented that she had noticed some private developer entitlement projects on the RPCC GIS Project Map. Mr. Damiani responded that these kinds of projects were indeed being added to the digital resource.

Mr. John Peñuelas, RTC Director of Engineering-Streets and Highways, reported that there was another matter that RTC staff needed to mention that was related to projects that would soon begin construction. He recounted that there had been a proposed provision in the RTC’s Policies and Procedures that would have authorized the RTC to participate in the review process for offsite plans of RTC-funded projects. Mr. Peñuelas shared that some representatives of the RTC’s member agencies had concerns. As a result, this suggested language had been removed from the RTC Policies and Procedures. He went on to say that the RTC had been talking to representatives of the local government entities and the industry to address the issues they had raised. These discussions also entailed attempts to craft guidelines whereby the RTC could participate in the offsite plan review process. Mr. Peñuelas pointed out that a question that had been posed was whether or not the RTC has the capacity to review every offsite development plan. He expressed that the agency had the resources to handle this.

Mr. Peñuelas went on to outline the proposed RTC review process related to offsite plans. He noted that a contractor would simultaneously submit a project for review to the appropriate local government entity and the RTC. The RTC would examine the plan, focusing upon three matters: 1) project coordination for inclusion on the RPCC GIS Project Map; 2) Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) for the project as appropriate to support smart infrastructure for autonomous and connected vehicles; 3) transit amenities entitlements such as bus turnouts or other entitlement conditions as appropriate.

Regarding transit amenities, Mr. Peñuelas said that homebuilders and other parties in the construction industry had been concerned about this matter. He explained that, in the past, some bus turnouts had been built, but were not needed, or the RTC had requested that transit amenities be installed after the construction of a certain project site had been completed.

The RTC Director of Engineering-Streets and Highways concluded the discussion by saying that, thus far, the general industry feedback had been positive. That being said, the agency was continuing to talk with the relevant parties and, at this time, the proposed provision had not yet been approved for inclusion in the RTC Policies and Procedures.

Motion:
A motion was not necessary.

Vote/Summary:
A vote was not taken.

Item:
8. RECEIVE A REPORT FROM THE CONE MANAGEMENT WORKING GROUP (FOR POSSIBLE ACTION)

Comments:
Mr. John Peñuelas, Director of Engineering-Streets and Highways, Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), provided a report related to the Cone Management Working Group (CMWG). He stated that the most recent CMWG meeting was devoted to the second Temporary Traffic Control (TTC) Summit. The RTC Director reported that approximately 45 representatives from various government agencies, utility companies, and industries involved in traffic control had attended the summit. Mr. Peñuelas shared that the discussion primarily focused upon the RTC’s activities concerning cone management and detection, pilot projects and use cases, and envisioning a robust cone detection system. Mr. Peñuelas also noted that local agency cone detection and management initiatives had been mentioned. In that regard, he shared that the City of Henderson had created an application (app) that could be used to detect construction work zones as these facilities are erected.

Mr. Peñuelas went on to say that the concept of “permanent reciprocity” was also talked about at the TTC Summit. He explained the concept by saying that when projects cross jurisdictions, the jurisdiction where the project is specifically situated would be the lead permitting agency. Mr. Peñuelas understood that such an arrangement was not prohibited, but he was aware that entities had concerns about risk management because the entity would be accepting a permit from another jurisdiction regarding the accepting entity’s facilities. Mr. Peñuelas noted that a certain set of conditions may have to exist for permanent reciprocity to be a suitable solution. He noted that this arrangement was being considered because there have been problems with the timing of encroachment permits with different approval windows for projects with cross-jurisdictional boundaries. One permit from one jurisdiction would expire before the permit for the other agency was active.

Next, the RTC Director expressed that the future of the CMWG was talked about at the TTC Summit. He related that the RTC believed that the CMWG’s four goals had either been met or another approach should be undertaken to reach the aims. From there, Mr. Peñuelas talked about the goals and the status of achieving the objectives. He stated that the first goal was to “[c]oordinate construction activity to minimize delay and inconvenience to the traveling public for all users.” RTC staff members thought that this goal was being met due to the conversations concerning project coordination among the agencies, utilities, and organizations and the development and use of the Regional Project Coordination Committee (RPCC) GIS Project Map. He continued with the second goal, noting that it was to “[r]eview Seeing Orange data to identify "hot spots" from the public's perspective and develop project specific mitigation measures and/or public outreach.” He shared that the RTC is still receiving Seeing Orange reports, and the agency and local government entities would address the issues raised. Regarding the third goal, Mr. Peñuelas set forth that the aim was to “[d]evelop a consistent regional standard for temporary traffic control permitting and conditions of approval.” He informed the RPCC that the CMWG had not made progress in this regard and the matter is still being discussed. Lastly, the RTC Director recited the fourth goal as follows: “[f]or RTC-funded projects, develop best-practice specifications for temporary traffic control and Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) accessibility.” He noted that the RTC and local agencies have not yet developed such specifications.

With this in mind, Mr. Peñuelas noted that an effective course of action might be to transition away from the CMWG and hold more Temporary Traffic Control Summits or institute another working group to achieve the outstanding goals.

Motion:
A motion was not necessary.

Vote/Summary:
A vote was not taken.

Item:
9. DISCUSS TOPICS OF INTEREST

Comments:
Mr. John Peñuelas, Director of Engineering-Streets and Highways with the Regional Transportation Commission of Southern Nevada (RTC), shared how the technology that the RTC is deploying detected a hindrance to the traveling public, the situation was reported, and the matter was resolved. Mr. Peñuelas shared that the specific technology was the WAZE traffic navigation application (app) and a Nexar dashcam. He continued, noting that one early morning prior to 7 a.m., he was driving from his home in Boulder City, Nevada to work at the RTC. He drove onto an exit for Charleston Boulevard and saw a queue at the intersection of Charleston Boulevard and Las Vegas Boulevard. He noticed traffic cones in this area and two lanes were closed. The area was down to one travel lane. He contacted Mr. Chris Schwarz, RTC Regional Traffic Control Coordinator, about this matter and provided contact information for the barricade company listed on the traffic control equipment. Mr. Schwarz called the company and a representative told him that the staff had not yet been notified that they could remove the barricades. Mr. Penuelas understood that a Las Vegas Valley Water District (LVVWD) facility in the area had sprung a leak. He detailed that the Nexar software platform had detected the cones and the dashcam had footage of the traffic control devices. Mr. Penuelas pointed out that there is technology available to help the local entities and utilities with traffic control and facilitate the movement of the traveling public.

Mr. Schwarz commented that barricade companies are often not immediately notified to take down a barricade after a job is completed. Like Mr. Peñuelas, he lauded the Nexar technology. He added that the RTC was exploring if the Waycare software that the agency is using could somehow play a role in providing notifications about construction work zones.

Ms. Tahmineh Pennington, Southern Nevada Water Authority, said that she would contact the maintenance department for the Las Vegas Valley Water District to see if some sort of notification for the barricade companies can be incorporated into the workflow. Mr. Peñuelas said that he would send Ms. Pennington the Nexar screenshots and data for her reference.

The working group would meet to discuss relevant issues and make recommendations to the RPCC as necessary. This item affords the RPCC the opportunity to discuss the merits of establishing such a working group and direct RTC staff accordingly.
